Job Overview

The primary purpose of the role is to improve domestic abuse interventions within healthcare settings across Suffolk to support a diverse patient population and in particular vulnerable groups who face the most barriers in disclosing abuse or accessing services, such as disabled women, minority ethnic groups, and migrant women and children.

The role of the Whole Health Domestic Abuse Trainer will be to upskill our health colleagues, starting with community outreach posts such as Community Nurses. They will create training material and work alongside our NHS colleagues and Local Authority to ensure a multi-agency approach that complements our county's champion's program and NHS policies. They will then deliver the training, offering advice to health colleagues and recording the impact of the training.

Responsibilities and Duties

- Create and develop training packs that are appropriate to healthcare audiences.
- Work alongside the NHS and Suffolk County Council to provide a consistent, multi-agency approach.
- Work alongside NHS's MARAC co-ordinator to identify training needs.
- Liaise with NHS colleagues to determine priority and booking of training.
- Evidence and measure the impact of training (including after 3 months).
- Attending multi-agency meetings
- Ensure that support is delivered in a way that empowers professionals to make interventions when needed.

Skills, qualifications, knowledge and understanding required

We are looking for a candidate who is able to demonstrate the following:

- Enhanced domestic abuse knowledge
- Level 3 in Domestic Abuse – prevention or early intervention
- Ability to create and deliver training
- Risk assessment and risk management
- Ability to work in a solution focused way
- Ability to empower and motivate

- Confidence to challenge other service providers where required
- Ability to develop and maintain a good working knowledge of services across Suffolk
- Ability to work with multiple partner agencies
- Working to targets and deadlines
- Good working knowledge of IT
- Knowledge of Safeguarding Adults and Children
